Mystery Letters

Have you been doing your 1 to 2 hours of exercise, walking the streets within the 5km Lockdown Limit? Have you seen the letters engraved into the footpath or kerb? What do they mean? Who put them there? Most are in the concrete, but the best ones are in St. Laurent Rise, Knoxfield. They are beautifully cast into the kerb bricks. It is obvious that these refer to the Water, Gas, Telephone and Electricity services under the ground. But what do some of the other letters mean? Have you seen B, F, H, M, S or V? What letters have you got in your street?

Knox Street Orienteering Walks are suspended at the moment but we hope to start again later in the year. We usually meet twice a month and spend one hour finding answers to 20 different clues that are shown on a Map Sheet – not just these mystery letters. It is good fun. While we wait for the Pandemic Rules to be relaxed many walkers have been “letting their fingers do the walking” with Virtual Orienteering. It uses Google Maps Street View to search for the clues. Map Sheets and instructions are on our webpage. www.knoxsow.org.au Many local Primary Schools have added our Virtual Orienteering to their student ‘at home’ activities.

Street Orienteering walks in lockdown

Have you been doing your one to two hours of exercise, walking the streets within the 5km lockdown limit?

Knox Street Orienteering Walks are suspended at the moment, but we hope to start again later in the year. We usually meet twice a month – you are given 20 clues shown on a map sheet and have an hour to find the answers. It is good fun.

We have also been hunting for Mystery Letters. Have you spotted any letters engraved into the footpath or kerb? What do they mean? Who put them there?

Most are in the concrete but the best ones are in St Laurent Rise, Knoxfield, for telephone and electricity services under the ground. But what do some of the other letters mean? Have you seen B, F, H, M, S or V? What letters have you got in your street?

During the pandemic, many walkers have also been 'letting their fingers do the walking' with Virtual Orienteering. It uses Google Maps Street View to search for the clues. Map sheets and instructions are on our webpage www.knoxsow.org.au

Many local primary schools have added our Virtual Orienteering to their student 'at home' activities.

Orienteers' virtual walks

IT is hoped that Knox Street Orienteering Walks will resume later in the year.

The group usually meets twice a month and members spend an hour finding answers to 20 clues that are shown on a map sheet.

Until gatherings resume, many walkers have been letting their fingers do the walking, with virtual orienteering using Google Maps Street View to search for the clues.

Map sheets and instructions are on the website - www.knoxso.org.au
